Twelve States Where Concealed Guns are allowed by Law

- Arkansas: Faculty, staff, students and visitors with an “enhanced” permit may carry on state campuses including places like Greek housing, dorms, libraries, faculty offices, and classrooms. The “enhanced” permit includes an eight hour training course on active shooting situations.
- Colorado: Concealed guns on campus are allowed by law. Only buildings that are under contractual agreement with outside companies may be excluded from the law.
- Georgia: Individuals 21 or older possessing a Georgia concealed carry license may, as well as licenses issued by other states recognized in Georgia, carry a concealed weapon on a public college or university campus in Georgia. Concealed weapons are prohibited in university housing, athletic events, Greek housing, faculty offices, areas where K-12 education occurs, and disciplinary hearings.
- Idaho: Individuals who possess an “enhanced” carry permit may carry weapons on campus, however, concealed and openly carried firearms are prohibited in dorms, and buildings and functions housing more than 1,000 individuals.
- Kansas: Concealed guns are permitted on campus except where “adequate security measures” are provided.
- Mississippi: Individuals with an “enhanced” concealed carry license may carry concealed weapons on campus.
- Ohio: Beginning March 1, 2017, all public colleges and universities have the discretion to decide whether to allow concealed handguns on campus. Concealed weapons are currently permitted in locked cars in parking lots.
- Oregon: Schools cannot ban weapons on the physical grounds of a campus, however, they may permit concealed handguns inside of buildings. As of 2017, no public school permits guns inside of buildings.
- Tennessee: Full time faculty and staff who hold a concealed carry permit may carry concealed handguns on campus once registering with campus law enforcement. Students are excluded from this law.
- Texas: Individuals who have a license to carry may carry their concealed weapons on campus. Schools may prohibit guns in certain sensitive areas on campus.
- Utah: Concealed guns on campus are allowed by law.
- Wisconsin: Concealed weapons are allowed on campus, however, schools may prohibit them in buildings by posting signs at each entrance. As of 2017, all Wisconsin schools prohibit concealed weapons in buildings.
